

What Jordan Cove means to my community...

DOUGLAS COUNTY

A Booming Local Economy

Thousands of jobs for Southern Oregon

- 6,000 construction jobs
- 8,500 spinoff jobs each year of construction
- 215 permanent family wage jobs
- 1,500 spinoff local jobs after start-up
- Skills- and work-force development

$4.6 million in permanent tax revenue to Douglas County and local governments every year

- Increasing and expanding public safety programs
- More resources for veterans' and other important services
- Over $3.75 million for public schools

A Better Place to Live, Work and Raise a Family

Lasting economic boost to local businesses

- $18.7 million in annual local spending from workers during construction
- $1.3 million in annual local spending from workers after start-up

Reducing and fighting wildfires

- Pipeline right-of-way and access and maintenance roads serve as fire breaks
- Construction will clear brush and other wildfire fuels
- 24/7 automated safety monitoring along entire pipeline
- More than $170,000 in tax revenue to local fire districts, the equivalent of three new firefighters
- Engineered to withstand seismic events

Investments in local infrastructure and services

- More than $280,000 each year for community colleges
- More than $170,000 each year for public safety, fire and hospitals
- $700,000 each year to county government and infrastructure

Creating living wage local jobs

- Average of 117 annual FTE jobs during construction
- Eight annual local living wage jobs in Douglas County after start-up
- Creation of hundreds of additional jobs in other industries

Clean, safe, reliable and good for Douglas County

$10 Billion Investment in Oregon

$2.88 billion spent directly with Oregon businesses.

Approximately $1.5 billion in payroll to Oregon workers.

If the project had been in operation in 2017, Douglas County would have received $4.6 million in annual taxes from the pipeline, making it the single biggest taxpayer in Douglas County and in each of the other three pipeline counties.
